Name of Activities

23-24 Hong Kong Railway Museum Visit

Objectives of Activities

Objectives:

1. To understand different types of trains and their various components.
2. To have the opportunity to ride different styles of trains.

Summary of Activities

Through this activity, children were able to learn about trains from different eras and appreciate their differences in terms of exterior design and interior features. Through guided tours, children had the opportunity to experience boarding and riding trains, allowing them to understand the differences between past and present trains. They were also introduced to the culture and evolution of trains for the first time.
