Objectives of Activities

Objectives:

1. To help children develop a growth mindset and ten core positive character traits.
2. Through experiential activities, allow children to discover, hone, and cultivate character abilities and a growth mindset.

Summary of Activities

The activity was divided into four parts: the loosened soil area, the sowing area, the weeding area, and character experiential activities. The guide started in the loosened soil area, where the children removed their shoes, washed their hands, and formed groups. Then, in the sowing area, the guide explained character traits to the children and assigned them tasks that required using these traits to help the earth and small animals solve problems. After that, they moved to the weeding area, where the children faced and tackled small challenges, navigating through a maze-like path to find the exit. Through this game, the students experienced and honed their individual core character abilities.
